Addressing your concerns

> Struggling to find software developers with the desired skills and expertise to meet your deadlines?

MobiDev has in-house experts and access to a large pool of software engineers in Europe to provide you with a skilled team to implement your product development strategy. We take full responsibility for ensuring the quality and timely delivery of your product, allowing you to focus on your core business tasks without any constraints.

> Have concerns about making a mistake in evaluating the competence of the team you plan to work alongside?

MobiDev has been in the software development market since 2009, and has built a solid reputation. You can check our clients' testimonials to make sure we are trustworthy.

> Want to have a quality and delivery guarantee?

MobiDev documents all client-approved requirements and acceptance criteria, creating a clear confirmation of our commitments. A dedicated project manager ensures regular status updates and efficient allocation of client resources.

> Troubled by the potential challenges in integrating and communicating effectively between the dedicated team and your in-house experts?

MobiDev focuses on long-lasting cooperation and has established project management processes to make this happen. Our experts follow industry-recognized agile methodologies, enabling efficient collaboration with in-house teams and facilitating swift progress with the next product iterations as necessary.

> Worried about security?

MobiDev experts follow in-house security guidelines and industry best practices to ensure system resilience and protection. Moreover, we have expertise in ensuring domain regulatory compliance including HIPAA, KYC/AML, PSD2, PCI/DSS, etc. to meet specific product requirements.
